PUBLISHED WEEKLY IN CANAL POINT BY PAUL RARDIN

CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Road Projects In Glades Pushed

The county commission Monday took initial steps to connect two sections of State Road 80 by the extension of Ave. G in Belle Glade.

Commissioner Paul Rardin, Canal Point, who pushed for the approval of a right of way purchase, said the connection was an important link in the Glades road system.

The Board had an offer to purchase a 660 foot strip of land for $2,000. The board approved the purchase subject to a final check of land values.

Commissioner Rardin also told the board that a $21,000 damage action for land damaged in a road construction program, has been dropped. A letter setting out the damage claim, had been received from Sam Senter Farms saying sugar cane acreage had been damaged by a dragline working on Ramie Road.

In other actions the commission: Heard that the county will be exempt from charges by the State Road Department for moving heavy equipment over the state road system.

Turned over a surplus fire truck to the Reservation Volunteer Fire Department at Lantana Airport.

Approved a resolution naming Lake Mangonia in West Palm Beach as a fish management area.

Voted to start a pilot project on Military Trail to try out a new system of street markers.

Recreation Area Proposed On Island

Peanut Island and its use as a recreational area which has become an issue in the Port of Palm Beach Commission election, was dropped into the laps of the County Commission Monday.

The Port Commission offered to lease a portion of the island to the county for $1 a year for 20 years if the county agreed to four pages of provisos which were part of the lease agreement.

The county commissioners listened while County Attorney Harry Johnston read the lengthy, involved proposal and then decided it should be referred to the attorney for further study.

Among other requirements, the county, if it took over a part of the island, assumed responsibility for liability insurance on the park; to be named to dredge out the insurance for a contractor expectant; agree that port commission could remove spoil from the island without restriction and agree to assume responsibility for proper police protection on the island.

One other provision in the agreement stipulated that the Port (Continued on Page 8)

Airport Program Put On The Road

The county commission this week took several actions which flashed the green light for a $3 million improvement plan for Palm Beach International Airport.

In this order, the board approved the following actions:

Approved a feasibility report drafted by Harold Wilde, representative of Connell and Associates, which will provide the background for a $3 million bond issue to finance the work. The report approval was recommended by a committee made up of County Attorney Harry Johnston, C. T. McCready, the county's fiscal agent and W. C. Goss, county fiscal advisor.

The commission instructed its attorney, its engineer and airport director, to immediately prepare an application for Federal Aid to help finance the improvement program.

Called on local architects interested in the project, to come up with some preliminary ideas during the next month, in order that the board may select a firm to draft plans for the new airport complex which will include a new terminal building on the northeast corner of the field.

Approved a resolution, subject to final check of land description and legal phrasing, asking the FAA to release a 600 acre tract of land south of the airport in order that the county can sell the land, using the funds to help underwrite costs of the airport rehabilitation.

Classmates Will Meet After 39 Years

This Sunday the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kemp will be the scene of a reunion between two old classmates when Mrs. Kemp meets Mrs. L. W. Jenkins after a period of 39 years.

Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Kemp attended school in Keysville, Ga., and had lost contact with each other until the recent death of Mrs. Jenkins uncle, printed in the home town paper reached Pahokee. A sympathy card by return mail brought a reply and now the two will meet to discuss old times and compare notes on the past years.

Celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary April 12 were Mr. and Mrs. H. Grady Boynton of Canal Point, Florida. They were honored at a small reception by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tom Boynton and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rudy Faulk at the Boynton home in Pahokee. Attending along with a few friends were another daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Max Beverly of Ochoochnee, Georgia, two grandchildren from out-of-town, Mrs. Horace Hartsell and family of Lake Wales and Joe Edward Beverly of Athens, Georgia and his fiancée Miss Mary Beall of Louisville, Georgia. Other grandchildren are Wayne, Bruce, Kathy and Laura Boynton, Tom Faulk and Ken Beverly. Mr. and Mrs. Boynton were married in Polk County, Florida, April 12, 1914, and lived there until coming to Canal Point in 1928, where they have lived since that time.

THE EVERGLADES NEWS (An Editorial)

The "Open Letter from E. W. Weaver" printed along side this column was written by Frank Wright's Office a millionaire's publicity concern with offices in the Palm Beach Towers Hotel in Palm Beach. Mr. Wright is being paid with celery money coming from Mr. Weaver's rich celery growing friends in Lake Harbor and South Bay.

You won't find a man west of 20-mile Bend who preaches the Glades and its products more than does Mr. Rardin.

Commissioner Rardin gives full time to the job and is as near the people as the telephone.

Majority Rules With Rardin In All Matters

What Mr. Weaver's ghost writer didn't say was that all but two of the meetings were excused absences when Com. Rardin was in State Road Board meetings in Ft. Lauderdale or Tallahassee, or in conventions sanctioned by the full board.

Commissioner Rardin has an office in the Glades Office Building (The building he planned and had built for Glades people to use) and another office in the court house, not to mention the office he maintains FREE TO THE COUNTY in his newspaper office in Canal Point.

How long is long enough? Do you dismiss school teachers when they gain 20 years of experience? Do you dismiss diesel mechanics when they reach 20 years experience? What you "hear more and more" is written by Mr. Weaver's millionaire's publicity man in the Palm Beach Towers.

Again, How Long Is Long Enough?

In the Glades Be Sure to See and Hear E.W. (Bud) WEAVER on Television

APRIL 30, May 1 and May
5:40 p.m. on Channel 5 WPTV
and 5:50 p.m. on Channel 12 WEAT.

An Open Letter To the Glades Folks From Bud Weaver...

In many parts of the world, people like you and me are denied a privilege which is priceless — the right to cast a free, independent vote.

As busy as you are in the Glades, do find time to vote in Tuesday's election. Vote as you please but vote.

It's not a long ballot. But it can be the most important election before the people of the Glades for four years.

I refer specifically to the County Commission race, District 5, which is the Glades. Since no Republican offered, there will be no later contest. With just two of us, Tuesday's election is it. There can be no run-off later.

In this race it's E. W. (Bud) Weaver against the incumbent. For the first time in eight years the office holder has been challenged. It's Bud Weaver, and a fresh deal for the Glades, or, a continuation for another four years of the part-time representation that you've had for 20 years.

Many people say the present commissioner has had the job long enough. Frankly, I agree. I've lived and worked as a drainage, water control engineer in the Glades almost the whole 20 years Mr. Rardin has been the part-time commissioner. "It's really time for a change" is what you hear more and more.

Is it possible a man can get such a hold, such a grip on an office that he thinks he owns it? No man should feel bigger than the office itself. Is it possible a man in 20 years can develop attitudes, methods of dealing with his constituents that reveal favoritism on the one hand, haughtiness, arrogance on the other?

Mr. Rardin has missed a lot of meetings. He must not himself realize how much he has been absent, for just the other night he told 100 or more people at Delray Beach that he had missed only two meetings in 20 years... only two meetings in 20 years.

But do you know what the records show? The last 10 years or nearly half the time he's been in office, Mr. Rardin has missed 49 regular and 48 special meetings... total of 97 misses.

Elect E. W. (Bud) Weaver Tuesday and you will get A FULL TIME COUNTY COMMISSIONER. I will strive to be the kind of public servant for you that will make my wife proud of her husband; my two daughters and my son proud of their father.

You in-the Glades will have a County Commissioner you can talk to, who will listen to you. I'll have an office in the County Building and if I am not in, there will be someone to see you or answer the telephone in my behalf.

If I am not in the Belle Glade office, or out among the people and projects in the Glades, I'll be elsewhere in the county working for you or in the county courthouse at meetings. Bud Weaver is going to be on the job for you all the time, for there is lots to be done.

One thing we haven't seen these last twenty years is something I promise you... a master-plan for farm to market roads. We need such a plan very urgently. We want no more roads built on a personal preference basis.

We need more visitors in the Glades, we need more people to understand the Glades. I was appalled when I started my campaign on the coast to find out Mr. Rardin simply was not known, that he had not gotten out among people, city officials, community leaders, to learn county-wide problems. It is going to be different with Bud Weaver. I am going to be a champion of the Glades throughout Palm Beach county, work with the other commissioners in a co-operative way. That has not been the rule of late. It's all going to be of benefit to the Glades, believe me.

Let me ask you to do next Tuesday for E. W. (Bud) Weaver what you did for Mr. Rardin 20 years ago. He asked you to elect him over the man then in office. I ask you NOW if you don't think 20 years is long enough for a man to hold on, to have done what he hoped to do.

Give E. W. (Bud) Weaver a chance to be the kind of public office holder you want, and that he pledges to be in your behalf. When you go into the voting booth Tuesday only you and The Lord know how you will vote. The Lord knows I need your vote to enable me to work for you. I shall be grateful for your support.

COUNTY COMMISSION

When you vote for your favorite County Commission candidate, remember that my only real estate interests are my own home and 3 popular Uncle Bim business locations in Palm Beach County. As a successful businessman, with 4 eventful years of governmental experience behind me, I can bring to the County Commission the kind of close cooperation between county and community that holds down taxes in both. Let's work together to beat the cost of both county and town administration. A good place to start is by electing Uncle Bim.

Commission, by its own resolution, could take back the island when it was deemed necessary and that the lease agreement would be cancelled.

Commissioner George Warren asked if the island in question was the same land which a month ago the Port Commission said was worth $1 million. When told that it was the same island, Warren commented "quite a come down in a month's time."

The commission decided to delay action on the agreement after Attorney Johnston warned "there are too many strings in this thing."

The incumbent port commission which is being criticized for not taking action to make a park out of Peanut Island, asked the county board to expedite the agreement but it appeared this week the election will be over before the county board reaches its decision.
